JUNIOR PROFESSORSHIP (W1) WITH TENURE TRACK LEADING TO A W2 (TENURE-TRACK-PROFESSORSHIP) FOR ARCHAEOOMETRY WITH A FOCUS ON MATERIAL ANALYSIS

Institution: Faculty of Humanities

Salary level: W1 with Tenure Track leading to a W2

Commencement of duties: 01.04.2023

Application deadline: 2022-04-07

Responsibilities:

Applicants are expected to teach and conduct research in archaeometry. They should focus on the field of material analyses (e.g. stone, pigments, ceramics).

The successful candidate is expected to take part in the University's core research area Manuscript Cultures. The successful candidate will take part in the University's core research area Manuscript Cultures and will get involved in the Cluster of Excellence "Understanding Written Artefacts" as well as in the field projects of the Institute for Archaeology and Cultural History of the Ancient Mediterranean.

Section 12 subsection 7 sentence 2 of the Hamburg higher education act (Hamburgisches Hochschulgesetz, HmbHG) applies.

Requirements:

Academic qualifications and additional requirements as specified in Section 18 HmbHG.

Additional Criteria:

Applicants are expected to have international research experience as well as a successful track record in acquiring external funding and carrying out externally funded projects. They are skilled in applying scientific methods to answer questions in cultural studies.

The University places particular emphasis on the quality of teaching and therefore requests that applicants provide details of their teaching experience and objectives.

Non-German-speaking post holders are expected to acquire the language skills necessary to teach in German (Level C1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) within two years of commencing employment.

Junior professors have academic autonomy in their research and teaching. Applicants' subject interests are expected to relate to topics in the area of Archaeology and Cultural History of the Ancient Mediterranean (Classical Archaeology).

A tenure-track evaluation will be conducted during the second phase of the junior professorship in order to determine whether requirements for appointment to a W2 professorship have been met. Section 15 HmbHG applies. If the evaluation is positive, the candidate will be offered a tenured W2 professorship. The regulations prohibiting internal appointments also apply to this junior professorship.

As a University of Excellence, Universität Hamburg is one of the strongest research universities in Germany. As a flagship university in the greater Hamburg region, it nurtures innovative, cooperative contacts to partners within and outside academia. It also provides and promotes sustainable education, knowledge, and knowledge exchange locally, nationally, and internationally.

As a University for sustainability, we put human resources development and especially the development and advancement of our early career researchers at the fore of our strategic endeavors. By strengthening the tenure-track professorship, Universität Hamburg has introduced a specific career opportunity for early career researchers. Junior professorships are aimed at researchers in the early stages of their career, within four years after completion of doctoral studies.

In accordance with Section 14 subsection 3 sentence 3 HmbHG, Universität Hamburg seeks to increase the proportion of women in teaching and research and encourages female academics to apply.

Severely disabled and disabled applicants with the same status will receive preference over equally qualified non-disabled applicants.
